Innovative Transcription & Captioning Solutions

What We Do

We provide premium transcription and captioning services at near-perfect accuracy and very competitive prices. Unlike traditional transcripts, our transcripts are time-synchronized word for word. This marriage of media and text creates precise captions and time-stamped transcripts. It also allows users to search, navigate, and interact with your media through an embeddable interactive transcript. You get access to a powerful online account system that automates workflow, provides transcript editing and publishing tools, and integrates easily with other systems. We do all this by optimizing advanced technology and human labor to deliver a more intelligent transcription and captioning solution. Learn more about our services.

Who We Serve

We serve more than 60 customers across a wide range of applications, including online video archives, education, market research, enterprise search, conferencing, post production, corporate communications, video training, and recorded events. We understand that needs vary from customer to customer and we are always focused on implementing the best solution for you. Learn more about our applications.

How You Benefit

Our solutions increase the value of your media by making it more discoverable, searchable, and navigable. At the same time, transcripts and captions make your media accessible to millions of people around the world and help you comply with Section 508 of the American Disabilities Act. Who We Are 3Play Media was founded in July 2007 by four MIT graduate students. Charged with the task of finding a lecture captioning solution, we discovered that traditional methods are cost-prohibitive while computerized methods are nowhere near adequate. This inspired us to find affordable transcription solutions by leveraging innovative technology. Learn more about 3Play Media.
